Anglotech: the alternative to costly original parts

We are specialized in producing, stocking and selling spare parts (non genuine or from Original Equipment Manufacturer) for most common brands used in engine rooms.

Anglotech was founded in 1998 in the strategic international logistic location of La Spezia, starting business with air compressors spares and later widening its range of spare parts for pumps, refrigerator compressors, vacuum sewage systems and filters.

We started selling separators, purifiers and heat exchanger spares in 2012 with Sepur which is our personal brand.

Because we boast a long term experience and a vast warehouse, that counts over 10,000 parts, we can offer most of the spares needed in engine rooms at the right price and we can proudly state that we are the best alternative to the costly original spares.
